TERRY'S TIDBITS

The return of routine for our parents and children seems like a new start. Routine may be helpful in our hectic lives, however our worship and service to God should never become routine. We should arrive each week expecting God to challenge our lives with His Word. We should come to our service anticipating the music to stir our souls to praise. We should arrive with the joy of fellowship in our hearts. Our worship should move us to greater commitment and service each week. We must have a desire to pray one for another. We should be encouraged to invite our friends and neighbors to be a part of what God is doing at Spring Creek.

Our Bible study, quiet time, prayer time should never become routine. We must be willing to allow God to transform us each day. That transformation will be for the honor of God. We can learn to think and act like Christ.

We have a baptism this morning. Be mindful that nothing is routine about seeing the picture of our death to sin, burial and rising to walk in newness of life.

Bro. Terry
