Terry's Tidbits

As a boy we played a game called "Simon Says". The object of the game was to move the way the person calling out the orders told you. However, if that person did not say Simon Says and you moved then you had to move backwards. If you paid attention you moved quickly. However, if you were not paying attention you could have problems. Well, it is time for us to move forward in our worship and outreach. It is time to tell people it is time to return to church and to His service. We have listened to the world way to long. We cannot allow ourselves to be lulled to sleep and think that staying away from worship is healthy.

Worship happens best when surrounded by those who fellowship with God. Our worship comes when we assemble. I understand health concerns, however, for those without those concerns, it is time to return to church.

As believers we need the nourishment of spiritual food and fellowship. We need the encouragement that comes from being with other believers. Our joint participation in the gospel and in singing and in prayer invigorates the spirit and strengthens the soul. Do not allow your spirit to be overcome with indifference.

Bro. Terry
