TERRY'S TIDBITS

This is written as we all anticipate Thanksgiving. We will gather with family and friends. We will enjoy the meal and the fellowship. But late on Thursday, when the dishes are washed and put away, when the final hugs and kisses are given, and when the final football game is done. We can take a few moment, sigh and remember those who were not there for the first time this year and those who have been gone awhile.

I lost my dad on Thanksgiving day. Sandy lost her mom in August of this year. Many of you have lost those loved ones this year as well. Yet, the day went on, tears were shed as we remembered. We rejoiced they are in heaven, but their laughter, greetings and hugs were missed. Their wisdom and love were not present. But, their memories were strong. Nothing replaces a loved one who is in heaven. But nothing would bring them back. Their thanksgiving was as never before. One day that will be ours as well. But until then, let us give thanks to God. Let us thank God for His Son and our salvation.

As we transition into the Christmas season, let us take one last look at the memories of Thanksgiving.

Bro. Terry
